

REMARKS

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kallio, US Publication 2002/0147008 A1 (hereinafter "Kallio").). Applicants respectfully disagree. A claim is anticipated only if each and every element as set forth in the claim is found, either expressly or inherently described, in a single prior art reference. See MPEP § 2131.

Kallio does not disclose Applicants' claim 1 limitations of "provisioning a MSC to serve the WLAN," "the MSC that serves the WLAN receiving WWAN messages that provide the WWAN service" and "the MSC forming SIP messages using the received WWAN messages.

The Examiner cites Kallio paragraphs 0010 and 0012 for the above teachings. However, paragraph 0010 discloses a WLAN GSM (WWAN) mobility architecture wherein the WLAN system comprises a Wireless Mobile Center (WMC) 210 arranged to serve as a WLAN access point and a GSM network comprising a dual mode MS 150, a BS 110, an MSC 120 and other components shown in FIG. 1. Kallio does not teach provisioning an MSC to serve the WLAN. Rather, the MSC serves the GSM system when the dual mode MS is operating in the GSM network. The WMC serves the WLAN system when the MS is operating in the WLAN network.

Similarly, Kallio does not teach the claim 1 limitation of "the MSC that serves the WLAN receiving WWAN messages that provide the WWAN service." As stated above, in Kallio there is no MSC that serves the WLAN.

The Examiner cites Kallio paragraph 0012 as teaching the claim 1 limitation of "the MSC forming SIP messages using the received WWAN messages." Paragraph 0012 merely describes what occurs during an active handover mode when the MS initiates a handover from the GSM system to the WLAN system. Paragraph 0012 makes no mention of the MSC forming SIP messages using received WWAN messages.

In view of the foregoing remarks, Applicants submit that Kallio does not teach each and every limitation of independent claim 1. Applicants also submit that dependent claims 2-4 are allowable by virtue of their dependency on claim 1. Applicant requests the reconsideration and reexamination of this application and the timely allowance of the pending claims. Please charge any fees associated herewith, including extension of time fees, to 50-2117.
